

Senior Full Stack Developer

Start date: Now

Location: Hamburg

Posted: 2019-04-15

What you will do

- You design, develop, deploy, operate and improve software solutions that will help to improve Taxdoo's front runner position.
- You take accountability for all aspects of your work and decide on the technologies and tools to deliver and operate large-scale SaaS applications using AWS. Along with your team, you will own your code.
- You are part of a team where Continuous Integration, Code Quality, Code Reviews, etc. are a top priority. You are positive yet firm in your approach.
- You are comfortable working in a startup environment and taking ownership of the entire development cycle; from ideation to implementation and maintenance using latest technology.

Your profile

- Very good & MVP-focused coding-skills in JavaScript with a minimum of 3 years of experience, preferably in a larger team.
- Excellent analytical and problem-solving skills.
- Practical and recent experience with JS Frameworks like React.
- Comfortable working with TypeScript or ES6.
- You have experience in system architecture and RESTful API design.

- Good, if you have a basic understanding of AWS and CI/CD and are not afraid of deploying and operating your applications.
- Ideally, you have also developed complex internal systems (e.g. ERP, Supply Chain Management), have build microservice-based systems (preferably in the cloud) or Web Applications for complex business domains.
- Passionate about writing clean and testable code.
- You have worked in an agile, multicultural and English-speaking team before.

Perks

- Working in a passionate, motivating environment.
- Private offices in Hamburg's newest WeWork at Jungfernstieg with free fruit, water and coffee specialities.
- Culture of trust, empowerment and constructive feedback, open source commitment, meetups, knowledge sharing through tech talks, internal tech academy, product demos, parties & events.
- Extensive onboarding, mentoring and personal development opportunities and an international team of experts.
- Competitive salary.
- A front-row seat to latest developments in E-Commerce and Taxation.

About Taxdoo

Taxdoo is the leading VAT solution for e-commerce companies.

It has never been easier for merchants to sell their products across border. However, in turn, they quickly become liable for VAT in foreign countries – the administrative costs and risks associated with this are an increasing burden for them and slow down international trade.

Taxdoo makes VAT compliance easy, affordable, and safe. All required data is retrieved automatically through connectors to marketplaces, shops, and ERP systems. A scalable algorithm calculates all relevant figures on a daily basis, which are then filed by our own international network of tax advisors.
