

Senior Full Stack Developer (m/f/d)

Hamburg, Full Time

Any e-commerce seller with cross-border business knows the central challenge of VAT in other countries. Taxdoo is the first API platform to automate international VAT compliance. We help e-commerce sellers to effortlessly scale their cross-border business without having to worry about tax issues.

We started Taxdoo in 2016 and have since become the digital champion of VAT with the support of top VC investors. As a Senior Full Stack Developer (m/f/d), you help us build the software that lies at the core of our business.

YOUR TASKS

- You design, develop, deploy, operate and improve software solutions that will help to improve Taxdoo's front runner position.
- You take responsibility for all aspects of your work and decide on the technologies and tools to deliver and operate large-scale SaaS applications using AWS. Along with your team, you will own your code.
- You are part of a team where Continuous Integration, Code Quality, Code Reviews, etc. are a top priority. You are positive yet firm in your approach.
- You are comfortable working in a startup environment and taking ownership of the entire development cycle; from ideation to implementation and maintenance using latest technology.

YOUR PROFILE

- Very good & MVP-focused coding skills in JavaScript with a minimum of 3 years of experience, preferably in a larger team – you are comfortable working with TypeScript or ES6.
- Excellent analytical and problem solving skills.
- Practical and recent experience with JS frameworks like React.
- Experience with system architecture and RESTful API design.
- Basic understanding of AWS and CI/CD – you are not afraid of deploying and operating your applications.
- Passion about writing clean and testable code.
- Practical experience in an agile, multicultural and English-speaking team.
- Ideally, you have developed complex internal systems (e.g. ERP, Supply Chain Management), have built microservice-based systems (preferably in the cloud) or Web Applications for complex business domains.

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT FROM US

- Working in a passionate, motivating environment.
- Private offices in Hamburg's newest WeWork at Jungfernstieg with free fruit, water and coffee specialities.
- A culture of trust, empowerment and constructive feedback, open source commitment, meetups, knowledge sharing through tech talks, internal tech academy, product demos, parties & events.
- Extensive onboarding, mentoring and personal development opportunities and an international team of experts.
- A competitive salary.
- A front-row seat to latest developments in E-Commerce and Taxation.
